February 2014

Dear Friends,

Sometimes, Epiphany seems like empty space. Situated between the color and excitement of Christmas and the intensity of Lent, this season that comes after the celebration of the Three Kings arriving in Bethlehem to worship the baby Jesus does not offer the same kind of drama. What it does offer is story after story pointing to Jesus' true identity.

When Jesus is baptized, the voice of God is heard claiming him as "Beloved Son." When John the Baptist sees Jesus coming toward him, he proclaims him "the Lamb of God who takes away the sin of the world." In the story of the wedding feast in Cana, Jesus performs his first miracle, turning water into wine (although this is not a year when that story is read). Even without Cana, we do see him perform healing miracles, and we see Jesus enable his disciples to catch a boatload of fish after a fruitless night.

In one story, Jesus goes to the synagogue in his hometown of Nazareth and he reads aloud the portion of Isaiah that begins, "The spirit of the Lord is upon me...to bring good news to the poor...to proclaim release to the captives and recovery of sight to the blind...." When he finishes reading, he closes the book and announces to the people, "This passage of scripture has come true today, as you heard it being read." We hear him say, "Repent, for the Kingdom of Heaven has come near." These are the words John the Baptist had been speaking as he walked through the countryside preparing the people to receive Jesus, only now the message comes from Jesus. And the season will end with the Transfiguration when Jesus is seen glorified. By the end of Epiphany, Jesus has taken on the mantle of Messiah so that when Ash Wednesday comes and we are reminded of our mortality, the words do not seem so threatening.

Empty space? Not at all. Epiphany is a beautiful and meaningful time for understanding what we celebrated at Christmas, and to prepare for the journey into Lent and beyond.

MY MUSIC, MY LIFE

By MaryRose Clark

Hello all! When Jane first asked me to write something for the monthly newsletter, I came upon writers block at first. Actually, it was more a question of what to write about. I thought of several different topics, but then I settled down, and thought & prayed about what is important to me and what I would like to share with all of you. When thinking about this and answering this question, it became very clear to me what that would be. I'd like to tell you about my Music Ministry!

To start this story I have to go back to the time I was about four years old. My parents had just bought an old player piano for my twin sister and me. (Yes, I am a twin!) Soon, instead of just listening to songs on the Radio, I was finding the melody of those songs on the piano. It was at that point that my parents decided to start me with Piano lessons.

Let me also add, that when I was about four or five years old, I remember sitting next to my maternal grandmother and listening to her play the piano. I don't have many memories from that age, but I remember that one very well. I would sit for hours listening to her! My grandmother was also an organist as well for her home parish. She died when I was six years old, but those memories have stayed with me for a lifetime.

I continued with my piano lessons, and by the time I was fourteen years old, I realized that I wanted to do something with my music. I just wasn't sure what that would be. But that was soon to change. That's where my Mother comes into this story.

After coming home from school one day, My Mom announced to me that our church, St. Catherine of Sienna Catholic Church in Cedar Grove, NJ had found their Organist for the "High Mass." There had been a sign in the church about the need for someone to play at that mass and accompany the choir. When I asked my Mom who that person was, she proceeded to tell me that I was that person, and she had "Volunteered" me. Honestly, my first thought was, "You have got to be kidding!" Years later, I told my Mom how God had to be working through her that day, and me as well. You see, I'm not sure why my Mom thought I could do this, ( I was only fourteen years old after all) and I'm definitely not sure where I found the courage to give this a try, but that's exactly what I did. God's hand was definitely there encouraging me!

Let me say, that for the first six months, it was difficult, and I often thought, "I can't do this!" But I kept trying and I kept practicing. I took lessons every week on the Organ. I would walk to the church after school each day and practice for 1 ½ hours and then my father would pick me up on his way home from work. After six months, I became the Main Organist for all six masses that were held each weekend; two on Saturday night and four on Sunday. Somewhere during the next six years at St. Catherine's, I realized that this was indeed a calling for me. It was and still is one of the things I believe God has called me to do!

This calling of my Music Ministry has been a privilege and gift to me. The privilege has been in sharing my ministry in the many different churches God has led me to since that time, many years ago when I sat in front of the organ for the first time. The gift to me has been all the countless blessings that have come my way because of my Music Ministry. I have the blessings of dear friends, whom I have come to know and love from the many different churches I have had the privilege to serve in. Some of my closest friends are all former choir members of mine. One person in particular, Gene Mayer, who has become very dear to me, sang in one of my choirs some fourteen years ago. Recently, quite by coincidence, or we think divine intervention, we re-connected, and now he sings again in my choir, this time right here at All Saints!

In closing, If my Music can help you hear God's message and in doing so, help you to become a better Christian, and follow the life Jesus wants you to lead, then I am humbled to have a small part in your own personal journey in becoming the best Christian and person you can be!

SCOUT SUNDAY IS FEBRUARY 9

We celebrate with Boy Scout Troop 104.. A leader will preach at the 10 o'clock Service, scouts will take part, and the Troop puts on a Pancake Breakfast for the whole congregation.

PLEDGE ENVELOPES ARE HERE!

If you have submitted a monetary pledge for 2014, your box of envelopes is in the narthex. If there are no envelopes with your name on them, that's easy to remedy. There are also pledge cards out there. Just turn one in, and a box of envelopes will be waiting for you! Pledges have gone well this year, but we are still slightly below last year's record level. Pledging is an act of Stewardship, and Stewardship is about giving back to God in thanksgiving for the good things God has given us.

ANNUAL MEETING

Despite a significant coating of snow, there was a good turn-out for the 10 o'clock Service and for Annual Meeting on Sunday, January 26. After a light lunch, the meeting – which lasted for about ninety minutes -- got underway at 11:40.

The minutes of last year's meeting were accepted as were the Treasurer's Report and the Endowment Fund report. John Brewer, as the new Treasurer, presented the final report on the 2013 Operating Budget as well as the 2014 Budget. Both were approved. Tribute was paid to Sally Robinson, long-time Treasurer, who moved away last fall – to Waretown. Rich Johnson was her temporary replacement, and John Brewer has now taken over. Tom Loop presented the Endowment Fund Report, a very good performance in 2013.

Elections were held for Warden and Vestry members. Churchwardens may serve three consecutive two-year terms, and Jenine Williams was elected to her third two-year term as Warden. Vestry Members may serve two consecutive terms, for a maximum of six years. In the Vestry Class of 2014, Charlie Beakes, Clark Landale and Patricia Ludewig completed their two terms and were not eligible for reelection. Lauren DiSarno completed her first term, and has been reelected. Joining her in the Class of 2017 are John Brewer, Anne Goetz and Joanna Hurley. Filling out Sally Robinson's Vestry term in the Class of 2015 is Bob Okell.

Other reports were discussed in order, as they appear in the published Annual Report. A very good spirit pervaded the room, and all participants were shown appreciation as they came forward to comment on their programs and activities. Special thanks were given to Claudine Doyle, who redesigned and re-launched the parish website and who posts events on the parish Facebook page; MaryRose Clark, Organist and Choir Director; and staff-members Irene Carlucci and Wesley Jenkins.

For a small parish, All Saints' has a long list of programs and activities in every area – worship, education, outreach, and recreation – and that is thanks to genuinely concerned parishioners who get involved and get things done. We have been fortunate, and we are blessed.
